Project Details

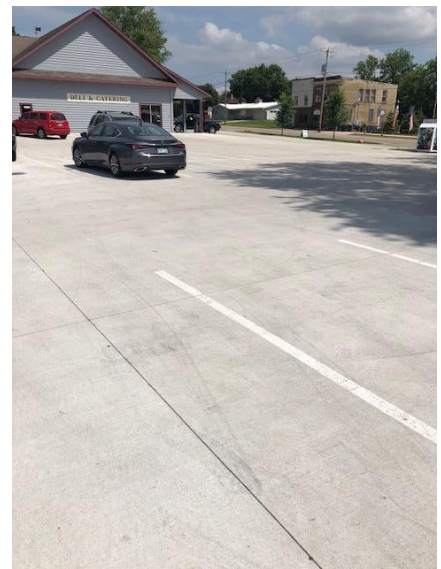

Concrete contractor Jacob Wegner initially met with Glenn's Market & Catering management to discuss a cost-effective concrete parking lot solution for this popular meat market and catering company serving greater Watertown WI.

An asphalt solution would have required complete removal of the existing deteriorated asphalt parking lot, replacement of the old granular base, and 4" of new asphalt.

Glenn's Market chose the concrete paving option based on concrete's favorable economics, longevity and aesthetics. Concrete's first cost was favorable, and its long-term low maintenance made the decision easy for the project owner.

Jacob Wegner Enterprises utilized a 3-D laser screed to efficiently place 600 c.y. of durable 4,000 psi exterior paving mix in 3 pours totalling 50,000 s.f.

Construction staging allowed customers to shop during construction.
